ref: Cox & Allen (Kendal) Ltd

I have worked on a number of projects with Cox & Allen (Kendal) Ltd, since moving to a local Kendal practice in 1985, and subsequently have had no hesitation in recommending them to my own clients, having set up as a sole practitioner in 1992.

They are a well established company, with the scope and expertise to undertake a variety of project types. They have been appointed main contractor, (with myself as project architect) on two substantial care home extensions; have undertaken a domestic attic conversion recently for a very exacting client, and have sensitively undertaken an extension to Ghyllside Primary School, where I am a school governor, at very short notice, and to a good standard.

They are able to provide a comprehensive service, maintaining a good relationship with the client, the various professional consultants, and with local subcontractors, to ensure projects are generally achieved on time, within budget, and to a good standard.

Do not hesitate to contact me direct should you require any further information.

Yours faithfully
